Twenty 'no-rent' Chinese were brought before Mr Wodehouse, in the Police Court this morning, charged, at the instance of Mr G. J. W. King, Land Bailiff, with Goods per Glenfruin undelivered after occupying Crown land without any right of tenure. Mr King said the defendants resided at Shek O, and about two months ago they were warned to .go to the Treasury and take out squatter's licences. The refused to do so, alleging that they were ancient squatters, holding the land before the British took possession of Hongkorg. About a week ago complainant proceeded to Shek O with the old rent-roll, and on investigation found that the defendants were all occupying the land without any right of tenure. The first defendant occupied four lots of ground and the others had each a house with a small plot of land Condy's) 50 Cents per bottle, or $3 per | The case was remanded till Tuesday, 3rd

From to-day's issue of the Circulating Berald we learn that Mr Ho Amei has presented a petition to the Chinese authorities at Canton who form what is called the Kw'ang Ching Tseung Kuk, or 'Mining Board, explaining the reason for the un-986 | entisfactory results of the mining operations at Tai Yu Shan and Tai Kong. These, the petitioner alleges, are entirely due to the worthlessness and want of skill on the part of the foreign workmen, and he proposes to substitute native for foreign furnaces. The reply to the petition is to the effect that while the Board approves of the petitioner's proposal, it considers him to have been in the highest degree negligent for not having reported when operations were first commenced and the amount of the ore obtained and for not having submitted specimens of the silver for the consideration of the Board. A legislative election has just taken place | This the Manager is ordered to do at once, the Republican 24,000 and Paul Déroulède as to whether foreign workmen are to be employed, or whether Chinese are sufficiently skilled for the work, or whether there should be a combination of foreign and native methods, and plans of the smelting furnaces are to be submitted.

We do not think any good end is accom-with regard to the spread of cholera in Hongkong. Pure Asiatic cholera of the virulent contagious stamp practically does not exist. There is, however, a kind of cholera, called by the doctors sporadic cholera or choleraic diarrhoea, which is claiming numerous victims, and sometimes in as sudden and startling a manner as Asiatic cholera. But in none of the cases are the rapid changes of heat to cold and the other characteristics of Asiatic cholera observable. In several instances fever seems to be an accompaniment, and the temperature of the patient has steadily risen to 106° and 107°, at which death occurred. The principal causes of the outbreak would appear to be the exceptionally wet weather and OUTWARD BOUND :- Devoushire, April 13; rapid changes in the temperature, the drinking of impure water, and the eating of unripe or over-ripe fruit. The Sanitary Board was at last forced to take action with regard to the pollution of the hill streams, and it might still do more in conjunction with the police to stop the sale of decayed fruit and vegetables. It was also a pity that urgency and precedence were not voted at pia, 29; Glenlyon, Melbourne, Deep- the last meeting for the bye-laws that directly relate to the sanitation of the town, as there is no doubt that dirt is a fosterer of all diseases. But it is foolish for people to fold their arms and howl at the Government and the Sanitary Board. The surest means of prevention lie with themselves. We have seen that when the Gaol authorities, after getting a severe warning, began to pay more strict attention to the water and food supply of the prisoners and to the dangers of exposure in an unprotected state to sud-Packet brings replies to letters de-spatched from Hongkong on April 25. den changes of temperature, the mortality at once stopped, and no more fatal cases have since been reported. Under this heading the Sydney Mail of

When we referred to the Chinese question last week affairs were in a condition that was neither satisfactory nor promising. Since then they have beenne involved in an almost inextricable muddle, the end of which cannot yet be forescon. - At the time of writing last week the legal, y of the action of the Government in detaining the Chinese on ship-board in the harbour was about to be tested in the prome Court, and the Promier was introducing and endeavouring to force rapidly through Parliament a bill to indemnify the Government for its action, to deprive all parties wronged by it of a remedy in the courts, and to increase the restrictive character of the legislation against the Chinese to such a degree us to make it practically prohibitory of immigration. Since that the Supreme Court has delivered judgment under which the Chinese passengers holding exemption certificates have been released, have landed, and have quietly disappeared. The bill has been carried through all its stages in the Assembly in one night, with imperfect consideration, the House having appar ntly no perception of the true character of its retrespective provisions. The Legislative Council, however, refused by a majority of 24 to to suspend its standing orders for the purpose of rushing it through, and there ! are indications that, eve if it should get through after reasonable discussion, it will not pass in its present shape. Meanwhile. however. Mr. Dibbs interposed with the meniure and the substitution of one totally excluding the Chinese, also censuring the Government for its illegal action: and business was suspended forthwith, not know what has become of the pledge Mr M Millan, generally a Government aupporter, had previously given notice of another motion of censure, declaring

And from England we learn that Pekin by the violence of the Government, Surely there is less prospect of an amicable now than there was six or seven weeks ago, when the Premier suggested to the Secre tary of State that a treaty should be negotiated between Great Britain and Uhina on the lines of the late treaty between China and the United States.

The first matter for remark, is the judgment of the Supreme Court. The question claborately upon alleged rights on the part of the Government to exclude aliens from our shores, and argued that the question was one of international not municipal law. and, therefore, beyond the jurisdiction of its attention upon the simple fact that there was a man within the territory, and, theremost respectable force, more than sufficient | effect, undoubtedly it does. A few weeks ago the Minister for Lands was declaiming against retrothat those who raise the bugoear of a spective legislation, proposed for the purpose of allowing an inquiry into certain private claims. Now the Premier asks for retrospective legislation for the purpose of shutting people who have causes of action against the Government, out of the courts. Whatever else the Council may do whet this bill comes up for consideration, i should strike out this proposed enactment of repudiation and highhanded injustice.

A few words about the action and position of the Premier. On the 31st March he suggests to the Secretary of State that the Chinese Government cause for deep resentment by breaking the law, and with-vill, depriving a number of Chinese within British territory of their liberty. The decretary of State asks under what law this ins been done? The Premier, evading the prestion, replies :- This Government has recided at all bazards to prevent Chinese anding. On Wednesday, the 16th, he moves the second reading of the bill to indemnify the Government, and shut the people who had suffered by its action out of the courts. At that time the Supreme Court had not given judgment, and it was a question of open discussion whether if the bill wore carried, the Governor would reserve it or give his assent. These were the circumstances under which the Premier stood up in the Assembly and said :- We have toted with decision, and we do not mean to

I east to the winds your permits of exemption. I care nothing about your cobweb of technical law. I am oboying a law far superior to ony law which issued these permits, namely, the law of the preservation of society in New South Wales. So far as I have means against every power that can be brought against me, I will carry out my pledge given on that night in writing to the free people of this country, and not allow those men to land.' What followed? We do not know whether the Governor has been overpowered by series of resolutions for the withdrawal of these menacing (or otherwise irrelevant) words. But we do know that the Supreme Court, uninfluenced by them, issued on the following day its 'cobweb' writ. We do given to that mob clamouring at the very

As to the motions of censure : our Parliamentary machinery is out of gear, and thus Mr M'Millau's motion, every word of which is true and fully justified, was doomed from the beginning. As to Mr Dibbs's motion. it is an illustration of either folly or blind party spirit, or a combination of both. And the land question, the local Government question, the rabbit question, the question of checking the rank growth of our weedy Assembly, are all affect and ndrift And further, there is the deficit. And this is the first year of our second

THE CHINA REVIEW. FUBLISHED BI-MONTHLY

TENTH YEAR.

THIS Review, which was intended to meet in the wants of many students of Chinese caused by the discontinuance of Notes and Queries on China and Japan,' has reached its Fourteenth Volume. The Review discusses those topics which are uppermost in the minds of students of the 'Far East' and about which every intelligent person connected with China or Japan is desirous of acquiring trustworthy information. It ineludes many interesting Notes and original Papers on the Arts, Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Natural History, Antiquities, and Social Manners and Customs, etc., etc., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, and the Far East generally. Recently a new departure has been taken, and the Review now gives papers on Trade, Commerce, and Descriptive notes of Travel by well-known writers. It was thought that by extending the scope of the Review in this direction the Magazine would be mademore generally

The Review department receives special attention, and endeavours are made to present a caroful and concise record of Literature on China etc., and to give and CARGO, will leave this port as above, critiques embodying sketches of the Most recent works on such topics. 'A substantial and reliable Review which all students of China and the Chinese would do well to patronise.'-Chrytanthemum. 'The November-December number of the China Review contains less variety than usual, but the few articles are very interesting. The opening paper by Mr Herbert A. Giles on "The New Testament in Chinose" treats of a question that must necessarily be of great importance in the eyes of all missionaries. . . Mr E. H. Parker's "Short Journeys in Szechuen" are continued, and a goodly instalment of these travels in the interior of China is given. Mr F. H. Balfour contributes a paper of some length entitled "The Emperor Cheng, founder of the Chinese Empire," which will be read with gonuino interest by students of Chinese history

A few short notices of New Books and a number of Notes and Queries, one of which "On Chinese Onths in Western Borneo and Java" might appropriately have been placed under a separate heading, complete Trubner's Oriental Record contains the number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, some what similar to that which has been filled in India by the Calcutta Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature. antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the accumulation of important stores of informable; and contributions of much interes scholarship is now assiduously cultivated Freight will be received on board until and who are severally represented in the first number of the Renew by papers highl creditable to their respective authors Some translations from Chinese novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and fresh ness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese poet-statesman of the elevently century, Sn Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. C. Bowra is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Beside notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a useful feature o the Review, if carried out with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice that 'Notes' and 'Queries' are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contributions on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar degree of literary zeal to that which was displayed during the lifetime of its prede cessor in the field, and that the China Review may receive the support necessary to insurits continuance.
